INTRODUCTIONS

It is our privilege to introduce to the Iris world some very fine, locally originated varieties. In addition to Mrs. Caroline S. Rowell's Grand Monarch (1929), Goldenrod and Snowbound, we are offering for the first time this year her Black and White, a distinct novelty; a new Iris color in Alan Hoyt, originated by Mrs. Alan Hoyt, of Independence, Mo.; and four extraordinarily beautiful Irises produced by Mr. John H. Grinter, also of Independence.

Alan Hoyt (Hoyt), a medium toned warm buff and brown bicolor; large flower and 42" stem. A genuine break in color.....	$25.00
Black and White (Row), sparkling white ground with markings as deeply black as any black pansy; a remarkable novelty.....	25.00
Blue Ribbon (Grinter), S. Roslyn blue; F. blackish violet with a lighter flush in center; length of flower 7" and 6" spread; height 40"; well branched; prolific bloomer; a brilliant clear blue.....	25.00
Graymist (Grinter), a light gray self without any blue in it; large, well shaped flower; height 36"; not a blend, but an absolutely smooth tone throughout	25.00
June Bride (Grinter), graceful milk white with golden beard; flower of very good substance, 4½" long and 4" spread; 42" height. As it is of Afterglow descent, it is very hardy and prolific.....	25.00
Potentate (Grinter), S. Amparo purple; F. blackish red purple with artistic wide markings half down; flower 7" long with 5" spread; height 48"; well branched; splendid substance; regal.....	25.00
